My Happy Place

*Bright warm rays pouring over the island, longtails soaring in the air,
green water waves bursting with motion, Washing up on the moist pink sand.*

*In town, easter lilies swaying in the breeze, vehicles whizzing past on the coral streets of Bermuda,
Gombeys dancing festively their outfits ablaze, the Union Jack colors flying high,*

*At home, is the sound of kiskadees singing, the air filled with the smell of fish cakes fresh from the stove, everyone rushes to the table when supper is called,
it's a race to get the first plate of food.*

This is my happy place or as I like to call it Home

Aaron Semos was awarded 2nd place in the Anne Arundel County Young Authors Contest for his 7th grade poetry entry. A county celebration for our first and second place winners will occur in early March. Congratulations Aaron!!

Mrs. Murphy's 8th Grade Digital Palette class experimenting with the movement of light by practicing long exposure photography.

Classroom Highlights

The 8th grade AVID students were exposed a real-world organizational techniques and structures of Under Armour after visiting the UA Swan Creek Factory House and UA Brand House in the Annapolis Mall. Students filled out a map of the store, which included the locations of apparel, footwear and accessory departments. Prior to the trip, students brainstormed questions for the management staff of both locations which focused on the store organization and the organization of store personnel.
