Message from the Principal...

Good day families and guardians! Do not forget that second semesters ends January 28th. I again remind you that we have Help Days on Tuesdays and Thursdays with activity buses that can take our students home. Please speak with your student regarding behavior on school buses, including activity buses. We have seen a spike in negative behavior. While we support all our students, we will have to start removing the privilege for students to ride buses if they do not follow AACPS policies and expectations.

As a school building, we are becoming increasingly concerned with the number of students out of uniform. Please remind your student to be in uniform every day. Please visit our uniform policy at this link <https://www.aacps.org/Page/3892> and review it with your child. As an academic institution it is imperative that we follow all expectations to support the success of our young scholars.

I also ask that you take a moment and speak to your student about transitioning to and from class. Students are increasingly taking more and more time to get to class. This interrupts instruction and academic learning. We need every student in class, on time.

Remember, positive parent involvement improves student behavior, attendance, and positively affects student achievement. I am positive that if we join and speak to our students about behaviors that do not support academic success, we will see a positive change.

As always, #WeAreBetterTogether,

Karla Steinbach, Principal
