Dear Marley Elementary Families,

It is my hope that each of you are well during these challenging times. I cannot find words to express how much I miss seeing the students each day. Greeting them each morning, visiting their classrooms, seeing students at lunch, chatting with them about their day. Those moments during a school day are special and really miss them as I am sure your students are missing them as well.

We are all adjusting during these times and change can be difficult. I want to ensure you that the Marley Elementary School teachers and staff are still and will continue to be committed to providing education to each of our students at the highest level. The formatting of learning is different, but our resolve is not. We will provide students with educational experiences that are meaningful and provide continuity of learning. In these times, we will meet this commitment while we all practice distancing to promote health, wellness, and recovery.

To provide eLearning opportunities to students, our teachers have been engaged in professional development this week. These classes are designed to prepare teachers in designing and delivering eLearning opportunities for our nearly 85,000 students across our county. We are excited for the official launch of eLearning on April 14th. Your child's teachers will be reaching out to you the week of April 6th with specific details about Google Classrooms, posting of assignments, and other details related to the virtual classroom.

As always, please reach out to Mrs. Morgan or I if you have questions. We are still here to assist. Our contact information is included below. Be safe, stay healthy, and remember to always be respectful, responsible, and safe.

We miss you!
